Made Local

Robert Long shares top Bay Area designs that showcase why shopping locally is a stylish choice

In 1962, Robert Long started producing mid-century lighting in the heart of Sausalito. It closed for a time, but 50 years later his son, Robert Long Jr., has revived the brand and pays tribute to his father's iconic designs with new collections that nod to the original work while honoring the mission to produce each piece locally. We asked Long to share which pieces are on his radar from local artists.
